Om Radar

På Radar kan du gå på opdagelse i et bredt udbud af musikgenrer. Du kan opleve det skæve, det smalle, det nye – både lokalt, nationalt og internationalt med særligt fokus på det eksperimenterende, det alternative og på nichegenrer. Radar interesserer sig for krydsfelterne mellem musik og andre kunstarter, hvor legen med koncertformat og præsentation er helt central.

Radar er et regionalt spillested, og modtager driftsstøtte fra stat og Aarhus Kommune. Radar afholder årligt minimum 105 koncerter. Ud over det faste personale, er der ca. 40 frivillige engageret med opgaver indenfor bar/entre/garderobe/foto/afvikling/lys.

Som regionalt spillested er Radar forpligtet til at arbejde målrettet inden for fem områder:

- Koncerter
- Talentudvikling, vækstlag og smalle genrer
- Publikumsudviling og kommunikation
- Eksterne samarbejder
- Ledelse og organisation

About Radar

At Radar you can explore a wide range of musical genres. You will find the odd, the narrow and the new - from local through to national and international acts, with a special focus on presenting the experimental, alternative and niche sides of the musical stratosphere. Radar is interested in the intersections between music and other artforms, with a focus on re-thinking performance and methods of presentation.

Radar is a regional music venue funded by the Danish government and municipality of Aarhus, producing upwards of 105 concerts a year. In addition to a permanent team of staff, 40 volunteers are engaged in various tasks and projects at the venue.

As a regional music venue, Radar is committed to work focused in five areas:
- Concerts
- Talent Development
- Audience Development
- External Collaborations
- Event Management and Organisation.

Det fleksible koncertrum

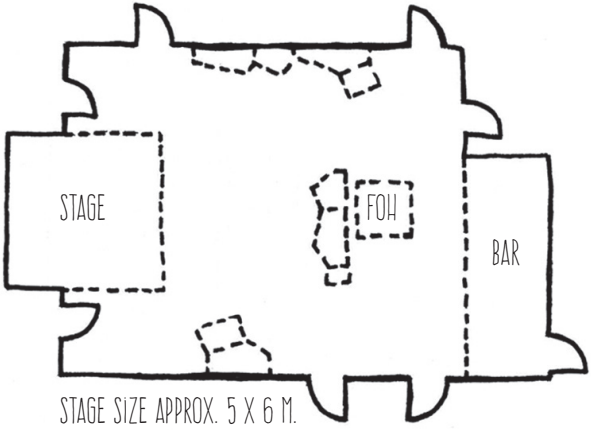
På Radar vil vi udfordre de faste rammer for, hvordan livemusik skal opleves. Vores modulopbyggede scene kan flyttes, formindskes og ændre form. Den er sammen med vores fleksible publikumsmoduler i stand til at give koncertrummet intimitet, hvad end der er 300 eller 60 publikummer.
Radars scene har fem standardpositioner, som danner udgangspunkt for designet af vores koncertrum til den enkelte koncert.

The adaptable venue

At Radar we want to challenge the accepted norm of experiencing live music by offering an adaptable stage setup, allowing the artists greater creative control over the space and the audience.
Our stage consists of movable modules that can transform and reduce in size. Combined with our adaptable furnishing, this creates unique and intimate experiences for our audiences, whether they number 30 or 300.
The stage has the following five standard 'starting' positions, from which the performer can further develop their unique setup.

Traditionel scene

Scenen placeret ved bagvæggen. Publikum har adgang til siderne af scenen. Der kan opsættes scenetæpper således at der skabes et helt klassisk koncertrum.

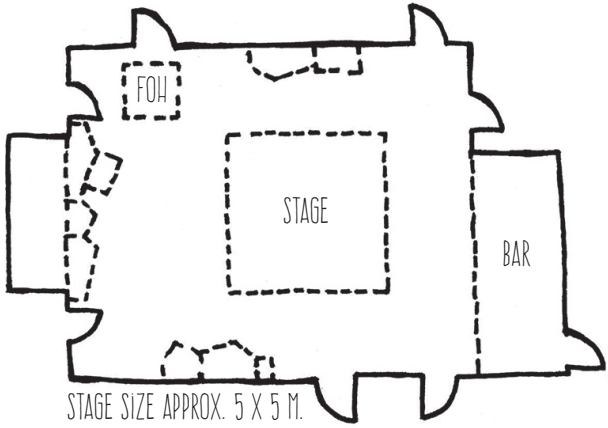


Traditional stage

The stage is placed against the back wall, and the audience has access to the sides and front of the stage, with curtains creating your classic 'thrust' setup.

360° scene

Radars scene kan stå midt i rummet, med publikum på alle fire sider. Denne opsætning skaber enestående intime koncerter, hvad enten bandet står i centrum for en kæmpe dansefest, eller publikum får lov at komme med ind i et øvelokale uden vægge.

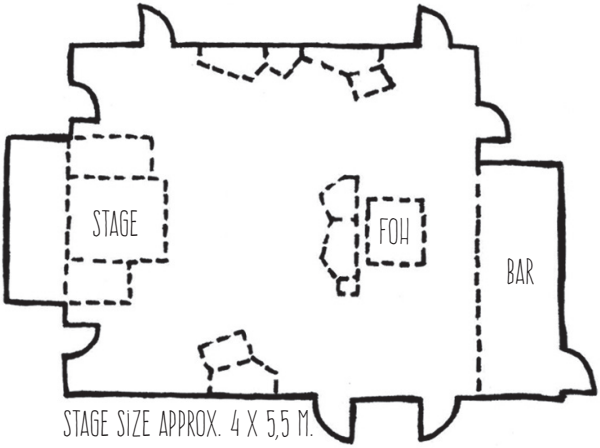


360° stage

The stage is placed in the middle of the auditorium, with the audience on all four sides. This 'in-the-round' settup creates an exceptionally intimate performance, inviting the audience to a 'band practice without walls' and removing a sense of hierarchy for dance and electronic events.

Niveau scene

Dele af scenen kan fjernes eller udskiftes med lavere podier, således at der skabes en scene i flere niveauer eller bandet får mulighed for at stå på gulvet i øjenhøjde med publikum.

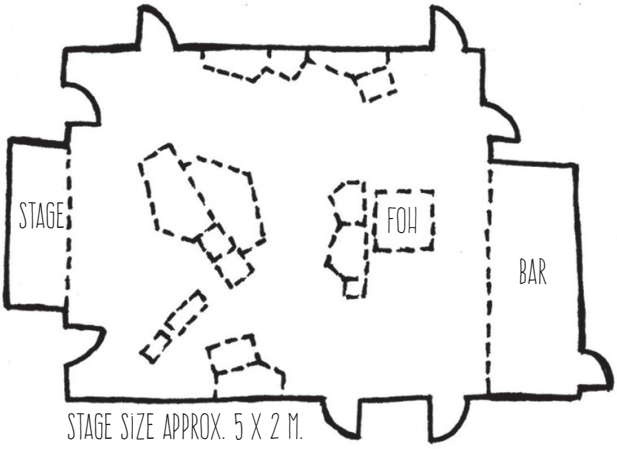


Levelled stage

Parts of the stage can be removed or replaced with lower platforms, creating a stage of multiple levels and giving the performer to opportunity to move from eye level to podium-style interaction with their crowd.

Lille scene

Til elektroniske arrangementer, eller andre arrangementer hvor der kun står en eller to artister på scenen, kan scenen halveres.

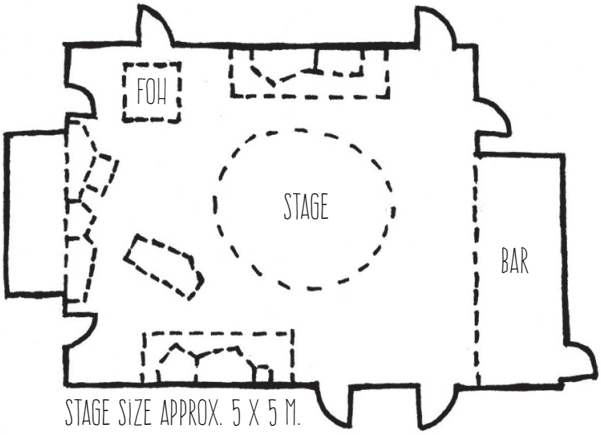


Small stage

At electronic events, or performances with few artists performing, we often cut our stage in half, drawing the audience closer and preventing the performer being swamped by empty space.

Amfi-scene

Rummet kan indrettes således, at bandet står på gulvet midt i rummet, med publikum placeret hele vejen rundt på plateauer og trapper.



Amphi-stage

The room is arranged with the band in the middle at floor level, and the audience placed on plateaus around the stage.
